Hi honey,

OK. Just like it says on your necklace, "Never, never, never give up."

It's time for action. It's time to take control of your life and not let Jibbers think he's just "won" anything by having you remain in Tallahassee, eight hours away from the only family you have, and lose out on what will be a job that will afford you and your children advantages that they will never otherwise be able to enjoy. Let's show this f----- what will make him absolutely miserable. You know his weak points; money, religion, control. You have 5 weeks before your court date. I know you have a job that keeps you very busy. However, the rest of your life, and consequently, dad's, mine and yes, even Charlie's, will be affected by how well you can perform/act before July 31st. You can be a good actress when you want to. I've seen you in action. You need to put on the performance of your life! Jibbers hasn't beaten the Adelson family yet. You have a very strong family behind you. Just remember that! Dad and I have done everything we could to try to help you for the last 10 months. Now it's time to help yourself! We believe that you will be able to make this happen! If you can put these actions BEFORE everything else this next month, (and you know that you've only got the kids a limited # of days to do this), we believe that Jibbers will be saying "Stop this!" and you'll be telling him, "You wanted me in Tallahassee. My children are going to "fit in" in this bible belt. They're going to church every time I have them. I'm having them privately tutored at home to get them caught up for the Sunday school classes that I've registered them in for the fall. The class time coincides with the service I'll be attending. Tell him that you've got a new outlook on life, and a new "hope" and you'd like to go to "heaven." Perhaps he would like to join you and the boys at church.

PLAN OF ACTION

1. Take photo of boys (dressed nicely) standing at the front door or by the sign of a Tallahassee church. Then, change your Facebook status photo to this one so everyone will see this. Perhaps a line under the photo with "New Beginnings in Tallahassee" might be nice. Within minutes, Jibbers should either see this, or will be getting calls from his friends/acquaintances about this. Hmmm. How happy do you think he will be?

2. Make arrangements to get the boys "caught up" with a private tutor (teenage Catholic church member) who will come to the house to teach the young men about Jesus. (If you don't have time to arrange for this to happen, I will happily do it for you.) She or he will serve as a good "babysitter assistant" for you while you're preparing dinner, etc. :)

3. Let Jibbers know that your children WILL be baptized in the Catholic church. And, you'll certainly invite him to the event. Let him know that the Catholic church is a big part of your life now with the boys and you'd like him to be a part of it. As long as he wants you to remain in Tallahassee, the boys will be involved with you in church related activities and ceremonies. Let him get used to it! I've already checked this out and a baptism can be arranged within 2 weeks. We can send out invites to Jibbers, his parents, sister and anyone else you want to invite.

4. I'm looking into summer camp programs for the boys. We will pay for it, even if the boys end up going only the few days that they're in Tallahassee on the days you have them prior to the hearing.

5. Register them for toddler classes at church. I've looked into this and even if they don't go, we can show Jibbers that they are enrolled for the fall semester.

AND - you can not tell anyone this is an act. Somehow it will get back to Jibbers!!!!

TAKE CONTROL FROM HIM! GET TO HIM PSYCHOLOGICALLY! HE'S GOING TO WANT YOU TO STOP THIS!

Wendi, you've been through a very difficult year. You had to make a huge decision. You did that. It was the right decision. Now you have one final opportunity to make him angry. We want him ticked off so he realizes that he could lose control over his kids. We plan to make a financial offer to him to allow this relocation. You need to work this plan and we'll help you through it so that it may effect how much we will offer him. Maybe he'd be willing to let you relocate if he knew his children would attend a private Hebrew academy like Donna Klein in Boca. Or, perhaps he'd like them to invite him to a Christmas party at their "other" Sunday school.

You have a little over 3 weeks till mediation. Lets get this going now. I know you would never want to think that you didn't do absolutely EVERYTHING you could to try to come down to your family. Between living down here, and having a job that will give your children the lifestyle they deserve, your life now and for sure in the future will be significantly better. Gary told us that he is NOT going to hire anyone until after your court hearing and after we try to make a financial offer to Jibbers.

We don't want Danny to continue his religious influence over these children any more than what he's already done. If he keeps this up and they won't want to eat in your non-kosher home. And, if they see you don't want to attend their shul functions, you will be the outsider. As they get older and more involved under Jibber's religious influence, they will be able to request which parent they want to live with. Don't allow Jibbers to have this power and control over them. Then in reality he's going to have the same control over you.

Dad and I have changed our lives this year to support and assist you and the boys in every possible way. Charlie has accepted the loss in the office business income for us to do this because he loves you and wants only the best possible future for you. It's time for you to show us that you can put on the performance of your life for the next few weeks.

Please call us after you read this. We're waiting to talk to you. If you have any other ideas to make a last chance for relocation happen, please let us know.

We send this letter with our love and only the best intentions,
Mom & Dad
